Max Schling deliveries are packed. The sender's card is never lost. Our vases and arrangements are all packed securely in boxes with a tag giving clear directions for care. If the vase is kept filled with water to the top, our flowers will last. On board ship, for example, they will last all the way to Europe. If you are uncertain of what to select, just tell us the amount you wish to spend, the purpose of your gift, and leave the selection to our discretion.
